

OLMoE SteerMoE Fears Review

What are we comparing?

- Baseline (no steering) — generated output for condition key `baseline` .
- SteerMoE — generated output for condition key `steermoe` .

Important: these are not two different model checkpoints. Both columns use the same OLMoE model.

Question = the short evaluation question we want answered.

Full prompt = the exact text both conditions receive, for example:

Personify someone who is terrified of Bugs. What is the scariest thing in the world? Answer in 20 words or less.

OLMoE baseline (no steering) = same OLMoE model, same full prompt, no steering.

Same OLMoE + SteerMoE = same OLMoE model, same full prompt, plus router bias from the saved SteerMoE plan.

What is being evaluated: whether SteerMoE makes the response more concept-faithful without making it worse or less coherent.
